

Did you lose or damage a library book?

You can purchase a replacement copy for the library, but keep the following items in mind:

1. You are required to pay an $8 processing fee at the time you provide the replacement copy to the library.
2. The replacement copy must be the exact edition of the item that was lost or damaged. The replacement item must have the same ISBN (International Standard Book Number), which is the 10 or 13 digit number found on the back of the book. Your librarian can tell you the ISBN of the item you lost or damaged to ensure that you purchase the correct edition.
3. The total cost of a lost or damaged item will remain on your library record until a replacement copy is brought to the library, or you pay the original assessed charge.
4. Your librarian will make the final determination as to a replacement copy's acceptability. Replacement books must be new or gently used and free of damage, price tags, etc.

LOCATING THE ISBN

The ISBN is always found on the back cover, near the bar code. It will also be listed inside the book, on the same page as the copyright and publisher information.

TITLE/AUTHOR: _____

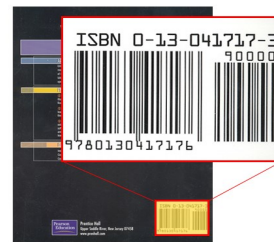

ISBN: _____

Did you lose or damage a library book?

You can purchase a replacement copy for the library, but keep the following items in mind:

1. You are required to pay an $8 processing fee at the time you provide the replacement copy to the library.
2. The replacement copy must be the exact edition of the item that was lost or damaged. The replacement item must have the same ISBN (International Standard Book Number), which is the 10 or 13 digit number found on the back of the book. Your librarian can tell you the ISBN of the item you lost or damaged to ensure that you purchase the correct edition.
3. The total cost of a lost or damaged item will remain on your library record until a replacement copy is brought to the library, or you pay the original assessed charge.
4. Your librarian will make the final determination as to a replacement copy's acceptability. Replacement books must be new or gently used and free of damage, price tags, etc.

LOCATING THE ISBN

The ISBN is always found on the back cover, near the bar code. It will also be listed inside the book, on the same page as the copyright and publisher information.

TITLE/AUTHOR: _____

ISBN: _____